

Program January – August 2021

Courses and workshops for children, young people and adults

Courses and workshops for children

“Growing with art” and developing inherent skills! The courses focus on deriving enjoyment and developing an understanding of art through hands-on creative work. Art courses for children include painting, drawing, and molding, introducing the children to all the basic techniques of fine art. They will learn how to develop a sensitive eye for their immediate surroundings and how to reproduce them in images. The objective is to stimulate the children’s imagination and at the same time direct it into creative forms of expression.

While the courses are designed to be continuous, they can also be booked individually. The topics are age-dependent, ranging from simple painting and drawing exercises to the execution of aesthetic criteria and the implementation of the participants’ own concepts. The children work with large paper formats at tables or easels, using water-based gouache as well as acrylic paints, pencils, charcoal, and chalk. Using clay, paper mâché and other materials, they craft colorful reliefs or objects of fantasy. Weather permitting, the course participants may occasionally take their work outdoors – like the painters of the former artists’ colony.

All courses and workshops are offered in German.

The art school Kunsthochschule Kassel provides opportunities to develop the creative potential inherent in every person. It is our aim to promote and support the artistic development of the participants, be it courses for children or adults, beginners, or the more experienced artist. The Kunsthochschule was founded in the tradition of the artists' colony, established by painters from Frankfurt in the middle of the 19th century, and ties in with this cultural heritage as does the "Museum Kronberger Malerkolonie". The art instructors themselves are freelance artists from Frankfurt and the Rhine-Main area.
